

The Software License Assessment Process

FREE! Our partner will assess your existing license position and payment agreements. They will show you a new way to buy your licenses, both existing subscriptions and new ones - leading to an average saving of 20% per annum.

Our partner will help to eliminate excess or disused license usage by advising on realignment plans or potential cancellations. Why pay more than you have too!

This can also help with software compliance regulations.

Our partner handles all of the software publisher negotiations on your behalf. They will help with the transition of your license agreements and you won't need to uninstall or reinstall any of your software estate, making the service the only true non-disruptive solution available today.

In alliance with our leading global software partner we offer the best possible pricing plans, and with the benefit of international currency rates, ensure maximum discount levels are achieved.

The Challenge

Finding the best possible ways to save money on your software license costs isn't easy...

Fortunately, we have the answer...

Assessment and Report

THE REPORT

Using the in-house license configurator, our partner compares your existing agreements against newly available plans issued by the software publishers (Microsoft, Oracle, Adobe, SAP, Citrix etc.) and advise on the best possible ways to consolidate licenses, subscription renewals and new software.
